The Firm

In 2015 a group of well-established professionals in the legal and tax field, sharing similar views and common objectives established a new kind of professional organization, Elexia, avvocati & commercialisti. The new organization because of its slender format and streamlined governance is now able to provide its clients with fast and effective solutions, flexible and customized services, according to each one's specific needs.

Elexia, avvocati & commercialisti incorporates 11 partners whose skills often integrate and complement each other.

The Firm provides its clients with effective and comprehensive counseling and supports them throughout all aspects of business development and issue management.

Elexia today

Elexia today includes over 40 professionals in the legal and accounting field supported by a qualified staff, that can offer assistance in business law, tax and legal advice and provide counseling in all areas of civil, administrative, commercial and corporate law (real estate and employment, debt restructuring, bankruptcy procedures and new technologies as well as in matters of tax and regulatory issues for the management of all needs arising from ordinary and extraordinary business activities).
